Press Release

AUSTIN AMERICAN TECHNOLOGY ANNOUNCES THEY ARE UNVEILING A NEW REVOLUTION IN CLEANING TECHNOLOGY ON TUESDAY FEBRUARY 28TH AT 10:00AM AT THE IPC APEX EXPO 2012 IN SAN DIEGO BOOTH # 1328!

Burnet, TX - February 17th, 2011 - Austin American Technology Corp. (AAT) is pleased to announce that they will be unveiling THE WORLDS MOST EFFECTIVE YET LOWEST INVESTMENT AND LOWEST OPERATIONAL COST CLEANER at APEX 2012 at the San Diego Convention Center Feb 28th adding to their full line of green cleaning equipment. Sterling Hornbuckle, Austin American Technology's North American Sales Manager said, "In developing our new cleaner it was very important that we maximize the cleaning and drying performance including reducing the cycle time for a complete wash rinse and dry, yet build a cleaner that operationally has the lowest possible operating costs." AAT's new low cost cleaner loses nothing on performance:

- Lowest equipment investment for a cleaner of this performance and size
- Lowest operational costs without sacrificing cleaning and drying performance
- Small Footprint reducing floor space
- Water only cleaning capable
- Chemistry cleaning capable
- Highest cleaning performance with chemistry or without chemistry

You don't want to miss this so be sure to stop by at 10:00AM on Tuesday February 28th and see the unveiling of AAT's new low cost state of the art cleaner in Booth 1328 at this year's APEX show in San Diego and Say "Hello" to Michelle, Steve and Sterling.
