

Austin American Technology

Press Release

Nine Countries in Ninety Days!

By Michelle Strebel

Austin American Technology is proud to announce that we have hit an all time record high, in the last ninety days we have sold to four different continents. Of these continents we have sold to nine countries including Russia, South Africa, Canada, Malaysia, Vietnam, Philippines, China, Belgium and Turkey.

Austin American Technology is known for our high performance cleaning systems such as batch and inline cleaners, aqueous and solvent, spray in air and spray under immersion with ultrasonics. The transition of selling our products overseas wasn't a simple process, over the past four years we have put major investments and countless hours into expanding our company which is now paying off. We have the benefit of a worldwide organization of service and sales which is making our business flourish. For Austin American Technology having a wide variety of customers is extremely important, since we are not limited to only the United States our line of marketing has shown great improvement.

The reason for our expansion is because our customers have also decided to broaden their companies by going overseas. The process of selling our machines overseas includes many people such as; all of our employees, our customers that now have overseas companies, and our distributors. Everyone has an important part in the growth of our company. Our employees have spent countless hours working with customers overseas to make a strong relationship with them. Our distributors have been a crucial part in the expanding process as well by marketing our products and selling to other countries along with their customers. The customers in the United States also have a major role in our expansion by telling their overseas companies what machines they are using and the performance that they are receiving with the Austin American Technology machines.

Austin American Technology started as a small company, but now thanks to years of hard work and dedication we have increased sales and have now become known for our machines worldwide.

Austin American Technology
Michelle Strebel
Inside Sales Coordinator

Austin American Technology
Steve Stach
President

Forward email

